Instructions (continued)

Who should use this form?

The filled out Form RC249 is to be used by the deceased annuitant's/member's legal representative.

Form RC249 is used to support the deduction on line 23200 of the decedent's final income tax and benefit return for the post-death loss experienced by the RRSP, RRIF, or PRPP.

For PRPP the form applies for increase in the value of the plan which is reported at line 13000 of the taxpayer's income tax and benefit return.

If the final payment from the RRSP, RRIF, or PRPP was made in the year the annuitant/member died, attach the filled out form to the final income tax and benefit return filed for the deceased for that year.

If the final payment is made after the year the annuitant/member died, send the filled out form and a filled out Form T1-ADJ, T1 Adjustment Request, to the tax centre that processed the final tax income tax and benefit return.

If the final payment from the RRSP, RRIF or PRPP was made after the end of the year following the year of death, or the RRSP or RRIF held a non-qualified investment at any time after death, some or all of the post-death loss may not be allowed to be deducted.

The Minister has the authority to waive those two conditions under the Income Tax Act. To ask the Minister to waive the application of any of the conditions, attach a written request with this form, detailing the facts that would justify a waiver.

Notes

A deduction cannot be claimed if no part of the fair market value (FMV) of the RRSP, RRIF, or PRPP was included as income on the deceased final income tax and benefit return. In the case of a PRPP increase in value, the increase is included in the income of the beneficiary or the estate for the year it is received.

For beneficiaries who are not qualifying survivors, the post-death increase has to be included in their income to the extent that it does not exceed the amount received by that beneficiary.

For more information, see Information Sheet RC4177, Death of an RRSP Annuitant, or Information Sheet RC4178, Death of a RRIF Annuitant or PRPP Member. If you have more questions about this form, go to canada.ca/taxes or call 1-800-959-8281.
