

Employee Contributions to a United States Retirement Plan for 2019 – Cross-Border Commuters

Complete this form if you are a Canadian resident who commutes or otherwise travels to the United States (U.S.) to perform employment services, and you are a member of a qualifying retirement plan of your employer in the U.S. A 401(k) arrangement is among the qualifying U.S. retirement plans. For a complete list of qualifying U.S. retirement plans, go to fin.gc.ca/treaties-conventions/us_annexb-eng.asp (paragraph 10).

Note

If you are temporarily working in Canada and you continue to participate in a qualifying retirement plan offered by your employer in the U.S., see Form RC267, Employee Contributions to a United States Retirement Plan for 2019 – Temporary Assignments.

You can deduct your contributions to your U.S. retirement plan on your Canadian income tax and benefit return if all of the following conditions are met:

- The remuneration you received for the services you performed as an employee in the U.S. is taxable in the U.S.
- Your employer is a resident of the U.S. or has a permanent establishment in the U.S.
- The contributions are attributable to the services you performed as an employee in the U.S., for which you received U.S. taxable remuneration and are made during the period you performed those services.

The amount you can deduct can be no greater than the amount of tax relief available in the U.S., and no greater than your registered retirement savings plan (RRSP) deduction room remaining after you deduct any RRSP contributions for the year.

Do not attach any statements of your contributions to your return, but keep them in case we ask to see them.

Report all amounts in Canadian dollars. For information about exchange rates, see Step 2 in the Income Tax and Benefit Guide for Non Residents and Deemed Residents of Canada.
