Glossary:

- Financial hardship:

- For an individual, financial hardship refers to a prolonged inability to provide basic necessities such as food, medical care, transportation, or accommodation.
- For a business, financial hardship refers to situations when the continuity of business operations, the employees' jobs, and the welfare of the community as a whole are jeopardized.

- Second review: Request to reconsider a previous decision.

- Representative: A representative is a person or business that you authorize to deal with the CRA for you. This person could be your spouse or common-law partner, other family member, friend, or accountant.

You are the legal representative of a deceased person if you are in one of the following situations:

- You are named as the executor in the will;
- You are appointed as the administrator of the estate by a court;
- You are the liquidator for an estate in Quebec;
- You are requesting to be the deceased's representative by completing an Affidavit form for intestate situations (when there is no will or other legal documents).
