T4032-PE, Payroll Deductions Tables – CPP, EI, and income tax deductions – Prince Edward Island

Effective
July 1, 2018

What's new as of July 1, 2018

The major changes made to this guide since the last edition are outlined.

This guide reflects some income tax changes recently announced which, if enacted as proposed, would be effective July 1, 2018. At the time of publishing, some of these proposed changes were not law. We recommend that you use the new payroll deductions tables in this guide for withholding starting with the first payroll in July 2018.

The Prince Edward Island budget, delivered on April 6, 2018, announced changes for the 2018 taxation year. The basic personal amount will increase by $500.00 to $8,660. The spouse or common-law partner amount and the amount for an eligible dependant will increase by $425 to $7,356.

Since some employees have been taxed at a different rate for the first six months, a prorated tax rate will apply for the remaining six months, commencing with the first payroll in July.

Effective July 1, 2018, the change is:

- The basic personal amount will increase from $8,160 to $9,160.
- The spouse or common-law partner amount will increase from $6,931 to $7,781.
- The amount for an eligible dependant will increase from $6,931 to $7,781.

Payroll Deductions Tables

You can download Guides T4008, Payroll Deductions Supplementary Tables, and T4032, Payroll Deductions Tables, from our webpage at canada.ca/payroll. You can also choose to print only the pages or information that you need.

Payroll Deductions Online Calculator

For your 2018 payroll deductions, you can use our Payroll Deductions Online Calculator (PDOC). The online calculator makes it easier to calculate payroll deductions. PDOC is available at canada.ca/pdoc.

PDOC calculates your payroll deductions. It calculates deductions for any pay period, province (except Quebec) and territory. The calculation is based on exact salary figures.

Let us notify you

We provide a digital service that can notify you immediately, free of charge, of any changes for payroll deductions.

To subscribe, visit our webpage at canada.ca/cra-email-lists and enter your business's email address for each mailing list that you want to join.

Special Notice

Payroll Deductions Tables (T4032)

Effective with the January 1, 2017 edition, the Canada Revenue Agency is no longer publishing the paper and CD versions of the Guide T4032, Payroll Deductions Tables. The digital versions of the guide continue to be available on our website at canada.ca/payroll.

Who should use this guide?

This guide is intended for the employer and the payer. It contains tables for federal and provincial tax deductions, CPP contributions and EI premiums. It will help you determine the payroll deductions for your employees or pensioners.

For more information on deducting, remitting, and reporting payroll deductions, see the following employers' guides:

- T4001, Employers' Guide – Payroll Deductions and Remittances
- T4130, Employers' Guide – Taxable Benefits and Allowances
- RC4110, Employee or Self-employed?
- RC4120, Employers' Guide – Filing the T4 Slip and Summary
- RC4157, Deducting Income Tax on Pension and Other Income, and Filing the T4A Slip and Summary

These guides are available on our website at canada.ca/taxes.

Note

You may want to refer to the 2017 edition of Payroll Deductions Tables until the end of 2018 to resolve any pensionable and insurable earnings review (PIER) deficiencies that we identify in processing your 2017 T4 return.

What if your pay period is not in this guide?

This guide contains the most common pay periods: weekly, biweekly (every two weeks), semi-monthly, and monthly. If you have unusual pay periods, such as daily (240 working days), or 10, 13, or 22 pay periods a year, see the Guide T4008, Payroll Deductions Supplementary Tables, or the Payroll Deductions Online Calculator (PDOC) to determine tax deductions.

Which provincial or territorial tax table should you use?

Before you decide which tax table to use, you have to determine your employee's province or territory of employment. This depends on whether or not you require the employee to report for work at your place of business.

If the employee reports for work at your place of business, the province or territory of employment is considered to be the province or territory where your business is located.

To withhold payroll deductions, use the tax table for that province or territory of employment.

If you do not require the employee to report for work at your place of business, the province or territory of employment is the province or territory in which your business is located and from which you pay your employee's salary.

For more information and examples, see Chapter 1, "General Information" in Guide T4001, Employers' Guide – Payroll Deductions and Remittances.

Federal tax for 2018

Indexing for 2018

For 2018, the federal income thresholds, the personal amounts, and the Canada employment credit have been increased based on changes in the consumer price index.

The federal indexing factor for January 1, 2018 is 1.5%. The tax credits corresponding to the claim codes in the tables have been indexed accordingly. Employees will automatically receive the indexing increase, whether or not they file Form TD1, 2018 Personal Tax Credits Return.

Tax rates and income thresholds

For 2018, the federal tax rates and income thresholds are:

Chart 1 – 2018 federal tax rates and income thresholds

Annual taxable income ($)	Federal tax rate (%)	Constant ($)
From – To	R	K
0.00 to 46,605.00	15%	0
46,605.01 to 93,208.00	20.5%	2,563
93,208.01 to 144,489.00	26%	7,690
144,489.01 to 205,842.00	29%	12,024
205,842.01 and over	33%	20,258

Canada employment credit

The non-refundable Canada employment credit is built into the federal payroll deductions tables. The federal Canada employment amount is the lesser of the following amounts:

- $1,195 and
- the individual's employment income for the year

The maximum annual non-refundable tax credit is $179.25.

Pension income is not eligible for this credit. If you are paying pension income, use the Payroll Deductions Online Calculator to find the tax deduction.

Personal amounts

Most of the federal personal amounts for 2018 are revised.

Basic personal amount	$11,809
Spouse or common-law partner amount	$11,809
Amount for an eligible dependant	$11,809

For more detailed information on the personal amounts, see Form TD1.

Prince Edward Island tax for 2018

Tax rates and income thresholds

For 2018, the Prince Edward Island tax rates and income thresholds are:

Chart 2 – 2018 Prince Edward Island tax rates and income thresholds

Annual taxable income ($)	Provincial tax rate (%)	Constant ($)
From – To	V	KP
0.00 to 31,984.00	9.8%	0
31,984.01 to 63,969.00	13.8%	1,279
63,969.01 and over	16.7%	3,134

Surtax

For 2018, Prince Edward Island's surtax is:

- where the basic provincial tax payable is less than or equal to $12,500, the surtax is $0 and
- where the basic provincial tax payable is greater than $12,500, the rate is 10% of the basic provincial tax payable over $12,500

Personal amounts

Listed below are some of Prince Edward Island's non-refundable personal tax credits effective July 1, 2018.

Basic personal amount	$ 9,160
Spouse or common-law partner amount	$ 7,781
Amount for an eligible dependant	$ 7,781

For more detailed information on the personal amounts, see Form TD1PE, 2018 Prince Edward Island Personal Tax Credits Return.

Canada Pension Plan (CPP) and Employment Insurance (EI)

CPP contributions for 2018

Maximum pensionable earnings	$ 55,900
Annual basic exemption	$ 3,500
Maximum contributory earnings	$ 52,400
Contribution rate (%)	4.95
Maximum employee contribution	$2,593.80
Maximum employer contribution	$2,593.80

You stop deducting CPP when the employee reaches the maximum contribution for the year.

Note

As an employer, you have to remit these deductions along with your share of CPP contributions.

For more information, see Chapter 2, "Canada Pension Plan contributions" in Guide T4001, Employer's Guide – Payroll Deductions and Remittances.

EI premiums for 2018

Maximum annual insurable earnings	$ 51,700
Premium rate (%)	1.66
Maximum annual employee premium	$ 858.22

You stop deducting EI when the employee reaches the maximum annual premium.

Note

As an employer, you have to remit these deductions along with your share of EI premiums.

For more information, see Chapter 3, "Employment Insurance premiums" in Guide T4001, Employer's Guide – Payroll Deductions and Remittances.

Personal tax credits returns (TD1 forms)

You may have to ask your employees or your pensioners to complete a federal and a provincial personal tax credits return using a federal Form TD1 and a provincial Form TD1.

For more information, see Chapter 5, "Deducting income tax" in Guide T4001, Employers' Guide – Payroll Deductions and Remittances.

Claim codes

The total personal amount an employee claims on a TD1 will determine which claim code you use. The claim amounts that correspond to the federal claim codes are not the same as the claim amounts that correspond to the provincial claim codes. See Chart 3 and Chart 4.

Explanation of claim codes

Claim code 0

This code represents no claim amount. If the federal claim code is “0” because the employee is a non-resident, the provincial claim code must also be “0.” This code may also be used if the employee indicated they have more than one employer or payer at the same time and have entered “0” on the front page of Form TD1 for 2018.

Claim codes 1 to 10

The claim code amounts do not appear on either the federal or the provincial TD1 form.

You match the “Total claim amount” reported on your employee’s or pensioner’s TD1 forms with the appropriate claim codes. Then, you look up the tax for the employee’s pay under the claim code in the federal and provincial tax tables for the pay period.

Indexing of federal claim codes amounts

The credits that apply to each federal claim code have been automatically increased in the tax tables by the indexing factor for the current year. If your employee did not complete the federal and provincial TD1 forms for 2018, you continue to deduct income tax using the same claim code that you used last year.

Form TD1X, Statement of Commission Income and Expenses for Payroll Tax Deductions

If your employees want you to adjust their tax deductions to allow for commission expenses, they have to complete Form TD1X, Statement of Commission Income and Expenses for Payroll Tax Deductions.

You deduct tax from your employees' commission pay using the "Total claim amount" on their TD1 forms in the following situations:

- if your employees do not complete a Form TD1X or
- if they tell you in writing that they want to cancel a previously completed Form TD1X

How to use the tables in this guide

Use the tables in this guide to determine the CPP contributions, EI premiums, federal tax, and provincial tax that you will deduct from your employees' remuneration.

CPP tables (Section B)

The annual basic exemption is built into the CPP tables.

- Find the pages in Section B that correspond to your pay period
- To find the range that includes your employee's gross pay (this includes any taxable benefits), look down the "Pay" column
- In the column next to the "Pay" column, you will find the CPP contribution that you should withhold from your employee's pay

EI table (Section C)

- Find the page in Section C that corresponds to the "Insurable earnings" of your employee
- To find the range that includes your employee's insurable earnings, look down the "Insurable earnings" column. When you use the table in this guide to determine the EI premiums, look up the insurable earnings for the period not the gross remuneration
- In the column next to the "Insurable earnings" column, you will find the EI premium that you should withhold from your employee's pay

Tax deductions tables

If you are using the income tax tables in this guide to determine your employees' and pensioners' total tax deductions, you have to look up the amounts in the federal tax table and the provincial tax table.

To determine the total tax you deduct for the pay period, you must add the federal and provincial tax amounts.

Even if the period of employment for which you pay a salary is less than a full pay period, you must continue to use the tax deductions table that corresponds to your regular pay period.

Federal (Section D)

- Find the pages in Section D that correspond to your pay period
- To find the range that corresponds to your employee's taxable income (this includes any taxable benefits), look down the "Pay" column
- In the row under the applicable claim code, you will find the amount of federal tax that you should withhold from your employee's pay (for more information, see the section called "Claim codes" and Chart 3)

Provincial (Section E)

- Find the pages in Section E that correspond to your pay period
- To find the range that includes your employee's taxable income (this includes any taxable benefits), look down the "Pay" column
- In the row under the applicable claim code, you will find the amount of provincial tax that you should withhold from your employee's pay (for more information, see the section called "Claim codes" and Chart 4)

Example

You are an employer in Prince Edward Island. Sara, your employee, earns $1,018 a week in 2018. She has a federal claim code 1 and a provincial claim code 1.

To determine Sara's federal tax deductions, you look at the weekly federal tax deductions table and find the range for her weekly salary, which is 1014-1026. The federal tax deduction for $1,018 weekly under claim code 1 is $112.95.

To determine Sara's provincial tax deductions, you use the weekly provincial tax deductions table. In the Prince Edward Island tax deductions table, the provincial tax deduction for $1,018 weekly under claim code 1 is $92.65.

Sara's total tax deduction is $205.60 ($112.95 + $92.65). This amount of taxes will be included in your remittance to us.

Additional information about payroll deductions

Deducting tax from income not subject to CPP contributions or EI premiums

We have built the tax credits for CPP contributions and EI premiums into the federal and provincial tax deductions tables in this guide. However, certain types of income, such as pension income, are not subject to CPP contributions and EI premiums. As a result, you will have to adjust the amount of federal and provincial income tax you are deducting.

To determine the amount of tax to deduct from income not subject to CPP contributions or EI premiums, use the Payroll Deductions Online Calculator, available at canada.ca/pdoc. On the "Salary calculation" and/or on the "Commission calculation" screen, go to Step 3 and select the "CPP exempt" and/or "EI exempt" option before clicking on the "Calculate" button.

Step-by-step calculation of tax deductions

You can use the following step-by-step calculations to calculate the tax deductions for any employee or pensioner who earns more than the maximum amounts included in the tax deductions tables.

The example shows you how to determine the amount of tax to deduct from all income.

However, if you design your own payroll program or spreadsheets to calculate tax deductions, do not use either of these calculations. Instead, see Guide T4127, Payroll Deductions Formulas.

Example

Tax to deduct for all income

This example applies to a person who earns $1,100 weekly and contributes $80 to a registered retirement savings plan (RRSP).

This person claims the basic personal amount.
